

Revolutionize enterprise project and resource management with Artemis Views Enterprise

Project management efficiency is no longer a “nice to have.”

Every minute you spend integrating and re-checking data anomalies and dealing with the constraints of legacy integration software is a waste. And it's no longer necessary when a single-system EVPPM solution that fuses cost and project schedule and resource information into one database has arrived. With that arrival, there is an opportunity to see dramatic improvements in the ultimate success of your biggest projects—and your company's bottom line.

Artemis Views makes it possible to effectively and efficiently manage your organization's project and earned value management requirements from a single product suite. The gathering of project, cost and scope—together in one single interface—provides total cost visibility within the project schedule, reducing cost impact iterations, data anomalies and time needed to integrate multiple data sources. This single cost and schedule solution combines with advanced real-time business intelligence, reports, dashboards and interactive analytics.

State-of-the-art EVMS compliance

With Artemis Views, we've re-defined how the best companies can execute earned value program performance management, delivering scale and performance that includes advanced business intelligence. Artemis Views has more automated and real-time checks built right into ongoing processes than any other solution, ensuring the simplest, easiest path to the Federal Government's EIA-748 cost and schedule project compliance framework. Views is designed to help all types of organizations manage expansive enterprise initiatives and process project plans with instantaneous responses and complete complex calculations quickly in seconds, rather than hours.

End-to-end change management

Artemis Views Business Process capability delivers work-flow based end-to-end baseline change management, including work authorization documentation. The one-click, real-time, end-to-end project baseline change control and reporting feature creates efficiencies that are especially critical to large defense contractors—and other organizations—that require the ability to track and audit changes as they happen.

Support for business process audits

Business increasingly demands the ability to document, analyze, and improve your project-related processes so you can protect profit margin and increase ROI. To support process audits, Artemis Views' user-definable business rules checker enables process enforcement and ensures data quality and synchronization. When your data is accurate at the start, you don't need to integrate and recheck. The result? You can get to insights faster and more accurately, and trust those insights to take action.

Total project cost visibility

When companies lack transparent insight into project expenditures, they run the risk of blown budgets, unfettered resource costs, and compromised ROI. Total cost visibility within projects and programs is essential to any successful project management approach. Today's project landscape demands what Artemis Views offers: advanced business intelligence, reports, dashboards and interactive analytics essential to informing budgetary adjustments—and staying competitive.
